NEWSLETTER

WELCOME!

Welcome to the fifth newsletter for Glenvale Park. Wellingborough's newest community is taking shape and we're delighted to be able to share the latest updates with you as the works continue at pace.

Every quarter, residents and key stakeholders will be kept up to date with the latest news on the development and will also be able to view the updates on the Glenvale Park website:

You can stay in touch through our social media channels, on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and LinkedIn.

THE LATEST NEWS

The community at Glenvale Park is beginning to form, and we're excited to say that the first residents have moved in at the Barratt Homes development. Later this month, Taylor Wimpey will also welcome its first occupiers. With a range of buyers getting the keys to their brand-new homes, the development is really coming together.

Over the coming months we're looking forward to involving the wider community of Wellingborough in the development more. The launch of our community needs survey along with the upcoming fun day on the 11th September will allow the people of Wellingborough to get their views heard and have a blast!

AUGUST 2021

WE WANT TO HEAR FROM YOU!

As part of our social value programme, the Glenvale team has launched an online survey, asking residents, businesses, and other organisations to give their views on priorities for the local community. We're encouraging residents to provide their thoughts on how their lives could be improved in various ways - including housing, connectivity, employment and the environment.

The survey will remain open until Friday 17th September and the findings will be used to inform the Glenvale Park team of how we can best maximise the opportunities to generate a positive impact and community benefit as a result of the development.

Among the confirmed attendees are Bewiched Coffee, The Garnet Grenades, singer Dan Hughes and a wide range of Wellingborough sports and community groups.
